One Dead, Loss Heavy In Blast At Wisconsin U.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — An explosion apparently caused by a bomb killed one person and heavily damaged a mathematics building containing millions of dollars worth of equipment at the University of Wisconsin today. Police said a graduate student was killed and two researchers and a watchman were injured.

Nearby buildings also were damaged.

Lt. Kenneth Buss said police received a telephone call at 3:40 a.m. from a person who said there was a bomb planted in the building.

Buss said, "At 3:42 the building exploded. There was a flash fire."

Robert Fassnacht, 30, Madison, a graduate student, married and the father of three children, was killed.

University officials said it was not unusual for researchers to be working during the night. Windows were blown out in buildings as far away as Capitol Square, 10 blocks away.

Scores were knocked out at University Hospital, one block away, but no one there was reported hurt badly.

The mathematics building housed electronics and other equipment used for research under contracts the university has with the federal government.

MADE BY THE VIKINGS? — A long-handled shovel indicates the size of a chunk of iron, possibly of Viking origin, which was found in a newly dug trench off Robinson Road. With it are fragments of glazed rock, which could be from the wall of an ancient furnace, and pieces of iron slag.

New Evidence Uncovered

Norse Iron Works On Site Of WCH?

By B. E. KELLEY

Strong evidence has come to light that the Vikings, or Norsemen, operated an iron furnace right here within the confines of Washington C. H. before Christopher Columbus was born.

Amazing as it may seem, this furnace appears to have been located on property which Richard Waters Jr. is now developing along Robinson Road, south of Elm Street for a modern mobile home-court and sales area.

The evidence consists of a 16-pound piece of ancient iron, brought to the surface from a depth of about two feet, dozens of pieces of stone glazed by heat from a possible Viking type furnace, and iron slag, such as found about a half score of other Viking furnaces chiefly in Ross County, and particularly on Spruce Hill. Jack English was present when waters unearthed the iron.

It would seem apparent that this is ancient iron, of the type produced by the venturesome Vikings hundreds of years before Columbus. Close examination shows it must have been made near the spot where found, for imbedded in the surface were portions of limestone rocks.

The entire piece of iron appeared to have been impregnated with more than a usual amount of limestone, which apparently has done much toward preserving it.

A small section will be saved off and portions sent to two or three scientists for chemical

'Kitchen Strike' Due Wednesday

By JOE NICHOLSON JR.

Associated Press Writer Women plan to demand equality with men in rallies from coast to coast Wednesday, the day of a National Women's strike against menial jobs and kitchen work.

Leaders of the women's liberation movement, who called the strike to coincide with the 50th anniversary of women's suffrage, say strike activities will include seminars, marches and the beginning of a nationwide boycott of five products that the movement contends insult women in their advertisements.

The National Organization of Women—NOW—said it would identify the five products in New York Wednesday. NOW said the products treat women as "deodorized young meat."

The strike's goals are job equality, free day-care centers and free abortions.

NOW launched its strike week activities Sunday at a service in the Arlington Street Unitarian Universalist Church in Boston. Betty Friedan, founder of the organization and author of "The Feminine Mystique," predicted millions of women would boycott their jobs and close down their kitchens Wednesday.

"Bring your babies to the office," she said, "and sit them on the bosses lap." She urged women to spend Wednesday "analyzing the conditions which keep us from being what we might be."

In Adams, Mass., Sunday, 10,000 persons stood in a steady rain to watch a march honoring Susan B. Anthony, the women's suffrage leader who was born there in 1820.

On Wednesday, the 50th anniversary of ratification of the amendment, the Post Office Department will issue a 6-cent suffrage commemorative stamp.

In Chicago, a taped message from Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., a leader in the drive to pass a constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights for women, will be played at a rally in downtown Grant Park.

Phyllis Berry, president of the Equal Rights Alliance, a Chicago women's liberation group which is advocating a one-day buying boycott, said, "The boycott is something all women can do."

Austerity Drive Starts

City Revenues Trimmed

Washington C. H. will have to do some belt tightening, City Manager Clarence A. Christman announced Monday as he inaugurated a new austerity program following a meeting with the Fayette County Budget Commission Friday.

The commission, which reviews the budgets of the county's political subdivisions and supervises distribution of some state funds, advised Christman that the city will be receiving only $10,951 of the requested $40,000 from classified taxes in 1970.

It also informed him that a total of $15,727 less than anticipated will be received by the city in 1970 from inheritance and classified taxes.

However, increases in some other tax sources and cutbacks in services are expected to keep the city from operating at a deficit through 1971.

A reduction of $7,000 in the 1971 operating budget from the 1970 operating budget is part of the belt tightening, ordered by the city manager, Christman pointed out that this cut is being made despite about a 4 per cent increase in costs. To have held even with 1970 increased costs the budget would have had to have been raised $16,000 instead of cut by $7,000, he commented.

THE FINANCIAL problems facing the city during the rest of 1970 are caused by a cut in the state collected and locally shared taxes, and in inheritance taxes.

An expected income of $40,000 was projected as these state sources. Instead the city will be receiving about $36,500.

Inheritance tax receipts this year will be only $2,700 instead of the anticipated $18,000.

However, Christman (Please Turn To Page 2)

Bombers Sent To Halt New DMZ Buildup

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers flew to within a mile of the demilitarized zone today to strike at new North Vietnamese threats to an allied artillery base that was under siege for 43 days last spring.

Twenty of the giant stratofortresses dropped 600 tons of bombs on bunkers, base camps and storage and staging areas six miles west of Fire Base Fuller.

The artillery base was manned by Americans and South Vietnamese until last spring when U. S. troops pulled out after the 43-day siege and turned it over to the Vietnamese. A little more than a week ago, enemy shelling inflicted heavy casualties on the South Vietnamese at the base.

Fuller is one of more than a dozen allied artillery bases located along the DMZ and the northwest border with Laos to guard against infiltration into the populous coastal lowlands. Fuller is 22 miles east of the Laotian border and four miles south of the DM.

Ground action in both South Vietnam and Cambodia was reported light with only small skirmishes.

While no significant action was reported around Fire Base Fuller, the B52 bombers were sent into the region in an effort to prevent North Vietnamese troops from massing for assaults on the base.

Informed sources said there were also indications that elements of at least two North Vietnamese divisions were trying to move from Cambodia closer to the South Vietnamese border in the region northwest of Saigon.

These sources said that despite heavy American bombing raids, North Vietnamese supply lines through Laos toward Cambodia and South Vietnam appeared to be "fairly open."

Castro Levels New Blast At U.S.

MIAMI (AP) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro says a report-suggestion that the United States fake an attack on its big Navy base at Guantanamo Bay as a pretext for invading Cuba was an attempt to 'give moral foundations to criminal aggressions.'

In a television-radio speech to the Cuban people Sunday night, Castro said news accounts in the United States attributed the suggestion to Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., during a conversation with former President John F. Kennedy.

Castro also blasted 'the criminals in power in the United States' after saying reports indicated Smathers also 'talked with Kennedy about the possibility of assassinating the Cuban premier.'

The New York Times reported Smathers discussed the conversations with Kennedy in transcripts turned over to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library at Harvard.

The ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion by Cuban exiles in 1961 was attempted after the reported Smathers-Kennedy conversations.

Castro also reaffirmed his ties with the Soviet Union and warned he would carry the war to the United States and its 'lackeys' if Cuba were invaded.

Castro asserted he had no interest in improving relations with the United States and that his economic and military ties with Russia "are untouchable."

Castro's warning was seen as a reply to renewed talk of a Cuban invasion by the end of the year. A recently organized exile movement in Miami has launched a worldwide fund raising drive "to finance the war."

Brass Quashed Vietnam Poll, McGovern Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., says a poll conducted and then suppressed by the American military shows that the people of South Vietnam want U.S. forces withdrawn immediately.

Coupled with a recent Harris poll in this nation, McGovern said, the results show that both Americans and South Vietnamese support, in principle, his amendment providing for U.S. withdrawal by the end of 1971.

He said the poll in Vietnam was conducted by the American military command and indicated "that 65 per cent of the people of South Vietnam want us to get out. Only five per cent want us to stay."

Agnew Renews Pledges To South Korea Regime

SEOUL (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told South Korea today that the United States is transferring a wing of F4 Phantom jet fighters from Japan to Korea and will supply additional military assistance, including planes with special radar equipment to detect infiltrating North Korean boats.

Arriving in Seoul for a two-day visit to reaffirm U.S. intentions of helping South Korea's anti-Communist government, Agnew announced the new military aid in a speech at City Hall Plaza before paying a courtesy call on President Chung Hee Park.

The new aid is intended to ease South Korean objections to the U.S. decision to withdraw by next June 30 some 20,000 of the 62,000 U.S. troops in Korea. The vice president did not go into details. A week ago, the New York Times reported that the arrival of the Phantom wing—three squadrons totaling 54 planes—would not increase American air strength in Korea greatly because at least two other Phantom squadrons which have been in the country on rotational assignment from the United States will go home soon.

Following his courtesy call today, Agnew confers with President Park Tuesday to receive some details of the specific weapons and equipment the Koreans feel they need to make up for the 20,000 American troops to be withdrawn.

American officials said the Koreans are seeking $13 billion worth of aid over five years. Launching a four-nation Asian trip, Agnew flew here from Guam, where he spent the night after the Trans-Pacific flight from California.

Talking with newsmen aboard his plane, the vice president declared that "we are going to do everything we can to help the Lon Nol government" in Cambodia because "the whole matter of Cambodia is related to the security of our troops in Vietnam."

It was the strongest support any top official of the Nixon administration has given the embattled Cambodian regime, but the Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., said it represented no change in U.S. policy. Discussing his visit to Korea, Agnew told the newsmen "there is little likelihood that as a result of my conversations any specific action will be proposed to the Congress."

Although a figure of $200 million has been mentioned by American sources for the new U. S. military aid to Korea, George Baird, of Columbus, and Jack Baird, of Grove City, threw Leeds a life preserver. The two Bairds then drove three miles to a bait store and telephoned for aid.

DIVERS FROM the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, the Washington C. H. Fire Department, the Fayette County Civil Defense Rescue Unit, Pickaway County REACT team, a Ross County diving team and many others cooperated in the search for Truitt's body.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said efforts were unsuccessful until Leeds pinpointed the area where Truitt went under. Divers worked until late Thursday, all day Friday and resumed their Korea on "a dangerous war junket" aimed at provoking another Korean war.

The North Korean Foreign Ministry said American plans to withdraw 20,000 of its 62,000 troops from South Korea actually are a "smokescreen" to shield a U.S. military buildup.

Rites Set For Tuesday

Body Of Drowned Man Found In Reservoir

Divers and rescue workers recovered the body of John Truitt, 22, of 1620 Washington Ave., at 2:45 p.m. Saturday. The victim's body was sighted floating approximately 500 feet west of the point where he fell into Deer Creek Reservoir at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley, of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, said the body was discovered after dozens of volunteer divers and rescue workers had continued dragging operations for nearly two days.

Truitt drowned when thrown overboard, according to a fishing companion, Ralph Leeds, 22, of Washington C. H. Leeds told officers that the outboard motor needed work and that Truitt had taken the boat offshore to work on the motor.

Leeds said he was sitting on the bank when the out-of-control boat circled with the motor revving up. He said Truitt began swimming toward shore and that he attempted to go to his aid, but could not swim.

George Baird, of Columbus, and Jack Baird, of Grove City, threw Leeds a life preserver. The two Bairds then drove three miles to a bait store and telephoned for aid.

DIVERS FROM the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, the Washington C. H. Fire Department, the Fayette County Civil Defense Rescue Unit, Pickaway County REACT team, a Ross County diving team and many others cooperated in the search for Truitt's body.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said efforts were unsuccessful until Leeds pinpointed the area where Truitt went under. Divers worked until late Thursday, all day Friday and resumed their tasks again at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

Radcliff said boating on the reservoir, which was suspended during the search, may resume. Officers said a fellow employee of Truitt's, James Underwood, and Park Superintendent Archie Rollins, spotted the body floating in the water at 2:45 p.m., approximately 500 feet west of where the rescue operation was underway at the time.

Pickaway County coroner Dr. Ray Carroll pronounced Truitt dead by accidental drowning.

FIRST TO report the drowning was Mrs. Basil Green, of McCafferty-Crownover Mill Road. She made her report to Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Earl Kuhn, who was on routine patrol in the area at the time. She reportedly told the deputy she had seen a man, apparently Leeds, standing on (Please Turn To Page 2)

Clean Car Race Gets Under Way

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Air quality rather than speed is what counts for the 44 vehicles heading for Pasadena, Calif., today in the 1970 Cross-Country Clean Air Car Race.

Tinkering and testing went on into the early morning hours as the more than 100 youthful drivers and crews—from more than 30 colleges in the United States and Canada—readied their low-pollution entries for the seven-day, 3,600-mile grind from ocean to ocean.

The young drivers departed with White House encouragement to show professors and the public that students are "capable of backing up complaints with constructive actions."

Nixon Confers With Advisers

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon welcomes a big group of economic advisers, western news executives and top businessmen at the Western White House today to discuss the nation's economy and foreign policy.

He goes back to work at his oceanfront office after a quiet weekend with his family at his Spanish-style California vacation home.

The big four of financial advisers came here to meet with Nixon this morning in the wake of optimism that boosted the stock market last week. The industrial average was up almost 16 points.

Fulbright Suggests Formula For Damping Mideast Fires

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright says the United Nations, using force if necessary, should settle the Mideast conflict by restoring pre-war borders and patrolling neutralized zones on both sides.

And, "as an accommodation . . . of Israel's mistrust of the United Nations," Fulbright suggests the United States follow up with a treaty guarantee of Israel's security after she withdraws from territories occupied in 1967.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, formally advanced the proposals in a 37-page speech prepared for floor delivery today.

In briefing newsmen earlier, he commented that the plan could "bring the United Nations back to life."

The Arkansas Democrat noted that the U.N. Charter provides the authority to create a force for keeping peace in the Mideast "but we've never had sufficient identity of interest with the Russians to do it."

But he said that "the weight of evidence indicates that the Russians do indeed want a compromise settlement in the Middle East," and might agree to action by the U.N. Security Council.

NATAPROBU's Motto: 'When In Doubt, Mumble'

The Obfuscators Won't Let You Down!

By GORDON BROWN Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Both-ered by progress and understanding? The National Association of Professional Bureaucrats stands ready to help get you back to a confused and furious standstill.

A champion of the status quo, governmentese and gobbledygook, the association has entangled its tongue in check for two years to obliterate achievement and clarity with entrenchment and obfuscation.

With its motto "when in doubt, mumble" and its coat of arms a rampant duck snarled in red tape, NATAPROBU now boasts some 300 members and claims an international division. Its arsenal to defend the bureaucracy includes the buckslip—a ready checklist of phrases to help the bureaucrat pass the buck—phrases like "per your request" and "let's discuss at lunch; your club."

Then there's the invaluable list of buzz word projections calculated to help the bureaucrat "speak with orchestrated rhetorical integrity."

With this list, he can put together such clear, concise phrases as "conceptualized incrementalized analytical infrastructure."

There also is the handy-dandy employ performance evaluation chart which gives high ratings to a subordinate who "writes with adjective integrity; presents ideas with maximized deliberative options" but which fails the employee who executes policy and can be understood.

Helpful also is NATAPROBU's executive pencil with an eraser on each end.

The organization motto comes from the guidelines enunciated by James H. Boren, founder, president and chairman of the board for the association.

These guidelines, which all bureaucratic members are required to memorize, are: "when in charge, ponder; when in trouble, delegate; when in doubt, mumble."

Boren is a qualified bureaucrat, having spent 13 years in government service, four as administrative assistant to Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and nine with the Agency for International Development.

The idea for NATAPROBU came to Boren in a bright flashing revelation, he says, on April 1, 1968, at an unusually dull meeting in the State Department building.

After three hours, he said, it

Damage Runs $3,500

Three Persons Hurt In 11 Area Mishaps

Three persons were injured and damage was estimated at more than $3,500 in 11 traffic accidents investigated by city police and Fayette County sheriff's deputies over the weekend. Three drivers were charged with traffic law violations.

Jeffrey LeFever, 16, Rt. 4, driver of a 1960 model car which was demolished, and his passenger, Robert Frost, 17, Rt. 1, Bloomingburg, were treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital Saturday.

Sheriff's deputies, who cited LeFever for reckless operation, said the youth lost control of his car on Ohio 38, 3.6 miles north of Washington C. H., at 11:08 a.m. It overturned in the left ditch while northbound after running off a right curve, officers reported.

LeFever suffered abrasions, contusions and lacerations while Frost received lacerations to the right jaw, left wrist and multiple bruises and abrasions. A yard at the home of Glendon Yerian, Rt. 1, Bloomingburg, also was damaged in the accident.

City Revenues Cut

expressed guarded optimism that the city can squeak through the current year, though it will have to borrow money to start next year.

THE TWO losses of money are expected to be compensated for by increases in collections from Municipal Court, from parking meter revenues and from funds shared by the state with the municipality.

The original estimate of Municipal Court has been raised $57,000 in revenues from $63,000. Receipts from parking meters may run as high as $38,000 instead of the expected $35,000 and the state may pay about $4,000 more than the already allotted $55,500 in 1970.

The state usually makes a payment of more than the original announcement, according to Christman. However, he pointed out that due to a drop in sales tax collections around Ohio, the state may not be able to make an increase of that size this year.

IF EVERYTHING works out the way Christman has planned, the city will have a balance of $8,000 to operate the first three months of 1971.

Loans will be necessary to cover the operating costs of the city for that period, until the first quarter tax distributions are made, Christman said.

Additional funds from other sources were provided by the Budget Commission to help compensate for its cut in the city's classified tax allotment. The $29,000 cut from the city allocations was given to the Carnegie Public Library.

State law requires that the classified taxes be given to the library if it can show a proper need. It has been several years since the library received such a large share of the tax.

An additional $2,038 was allotted to the city by the commission from the local government fund for 1971. The distribution of inheritance taxes is expected to be $25,000 higher in 1971 than originally expected in the budget.

This should leave the city with about $2,010 less than the anticipated receipts for 1971.

HOWEVER, a reduction in the operating costs from $402,000 to $395,000 has been ordered by the city manager, despite cost increases totaling about $16,000.

To compensate for the increase in costs and the $2,010 cut in revenues, the city would have to pass about a one-mill levy, the manager said.

Expected cuts include not replacing about $1,500 worth of parking meters, cutting the building maintenance budget for City Hall from $3,000 to $1,000 and keeping a close watch on all miscellaneous expenses by department.

Department heads no longer will be able to make any miscellaneous purchases over $5 without approval of both the manager and city auditor. Previously they were allowed to make $25 purchases without approval.

With the cuts in services the city can squeak by, but by 1972 the municipality will be in financial trouble. Current projected income cannot possibly cover the projected expenses of the city that year, the manager said.

injured in a three-vehicle collision at 6:35 a.m. Monday in Washington Manor Court, according to the Sheriff's Department.

Treated at Memorial Hospital for a head abrasion was Mary Louise Howard, daughter of Mary Jane Howard, 24, Rt. 3, Washington Manor Ct., who was the driver involved in the crash.

Officers said Mrs. Howard lost control of her 1963 model car and it struck two parked cars owned by Terry Southworth, also of Washington Manor Ct. Damage was estimated at a total of $1,200 to the three vehicles. Mrs. Howard was charged with reckless operation.

Robert F. Howard, 45, Rt. 1, South Solon, was arrested by sheriff's deputies for leaving the scene of an accident on Wesley Chapel Road at 3 a.m. Sunday.

Officers said Howard lost control of his 1963 model car and it damaged three rods of fence owned by Louella Coe, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville. Damage to the car was estimated at $75.

OFFICERS investigated seven other mishaps Saturday which involved property damage. No one else was injured and no citations were issued.

A two-car collision at 1:27 p.m. at the N. North Street - Market Street intersection caused $50 damage to a car driven by Donald E. Everhart, 66, of 1136 Gregg St. The other driver was James Thomas, 23, of 722 Church St.

A mini-bus, operated in the city parking lot by Diane Robert, 25, of 726 Washington Ave., and a car driven by Joseph A. Boylan, 21, of 826 Lincoln Dr., were involved in a minor collision at 2:26 p.m. Damage was listed at $80 to the car, and none to the bus.

Three accidents occurred within 15 minutes between 6:10 and 6:25 p.m. Roger W. Smith, 19, Rt. 2, lost control of his 1964 model car on U. S. 62, a mile south of Washington C. H. It damaged three rods of fence owned by Wayne Cunningham and caused $300 damage to the car.

Then, Ricky L. Crawford, 18, of Good Hope, experienced the same type of accident on Ohio 753, 3.5 miles southeast of the city. His car was demolished as it damaged eight rods of fence owned by Chester Frazier, Rt. 2.

At 6:25 p.m. on U. S. 35, 1.2 miles northwest of the city, Paul L. Leisure, 27, of 1420 Pearl St., ran off the road and his car struck the concrete base of a light pole in the M&M Restaurant parking lot. Damage to the car was figured by sheriff's deputies at $500.

CARS DRIVEN by Ricky J. Houseman, 18, Bloomingburg, and Benjamin G. Shoker, 32, of Oxford, collided at 7:40 p.m. on U. S. 35 at Bogus Road. Houseman stopped his vehicle to make a left turn when Shoker's car struck the Houseman vehicle in the rear. Damage was figured at $50 to each car.

The only other Saturday accident occurred at 10:23 p.m. on Water Street near Temple Street. Paul A. Walker, 25, of Wilberforce, lost control of his 1967 model and it struck a parked car owned by Donald Turley, Rt. 4, Washington C. H. Damage to the Turley vehicle was listed at $100, and none to Walker's.

An 8-year-old child escaped injury when the bicycle he was riding collided with a car at 11:50 a.m. Sunday in the 300 block of S. Main Street.

City police said the car was driven by Oscar P. Glass, 34, of Bloomingburg, who said he stopped for two children who rode their bikes in front of his car. The third cyclist, Terry Gene Mendenhall, 331 N. Fayette St., struck the car's rear fender. Damage was listed at $10 to the car.

Four accidents accounted for nearly half of Ohio's 30 weekend traffic deaths—the second worst nonholiday toll of the year.

Topping the grim list was a grisly two-car smashup in Lake County Sunday night that claimed seven lives, including five members of a Cleveland family.

A triple-fatality crash and two double - death accidents helped boost the toll to within one death of the 31 counted the weekend of June 5-7 and to match the 30 recorded April 24-26.

The three-day Memorial Day weekend's 35 dead was high for the year.

Bolt Knocks Cross From Church Roof

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Lightning knocked down a granite cross from the roof of the Church of the Good Shepherd near the state capitol Sunday.

No one was inside the church when the bolt hit. The cross weighed about 200 pounds. Parts of it damaged the roof in falling to the ground.

Hunt Slayer Of General's Daughter, 13

KENNEBUNK, Maine (AP) — Police are searching this and neighboring coastal resort communities in southern Maine for the killer of 13-year-old Mary C. Olenchuk, whose body was found under a pile of hay in an abandoned barn Saturday.

Officials said her death was due to strangulation, caused by a rope wrapped tightly around her neck.

She was the youngest daughter of Army Brig. Gen. Peter G. Olenchuk, commanding officer of the Army Ammunition Supply Agency at Joliet, Ill., who coordinated the recent dumping of poison gas in the Atlantic. The general said he discarded any theory his daughter's death and the shipment of the controversial gas were connected.

About 20 state police officers scoured the old barn, adjacent fields and woodlands Sunday, but said they have little to go on.

The girl was last seen Aug. 9 talking to a man in a maroon car parked about 200 yards from the Olenchuk family's summer home in nearby Ogunquit, police said.

Agronomist 'Well', Report

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — American agronomist Claude L. Fly and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Goidme, both held captive by Tupamaro guerrillas, are well and "no judgment will be passed against them" for the time being, a communication from the guerrillas said today.

Police said the note was authentic. The first word from the guerrillas in two weeks, the communiqué was addressed to the local newspaper BP color. It was left at a store three blocks from the paper's office.

actually your carrier boy...

Since the third week of July, possibly as many as 20 complaints have been received by the Circulation Department that "a little blond boy" has been calling at homes saying he is a brother of the carrier and is there to collect for him. . . Usually, he is taken at his word and paid. . . Then, when the regular carrier boy comes to collect, there is consternation on the part of the subscriber and the Circulation Department and desperation on the part of the carrier. . .

Apparently, the "little blond boy" never goes to the same house twice. . . For, no one remembers him well enough to give a better description or his name. . . In desperation, the matter was reported to the police Monday. . .

The regular carrier boys have been instructed to take their little green route books with them when they collect. . . If a subscriber is suspicious, he can show the book to identify himself. . .

Since the carriers are little businessmen, they buy their papers and sell them to their customers. . . It is they who have to take the loss. . . And that is a shame, because they earn their profit by their diligence. . . It's not easy for a youngster to pass up play to attend to his business, but that's what these carriers do. . .

But The Trend Is Good

The experts convey an air of gratified puzzlement when they comment on the fact that traffic deaths in the United States are slightly on the decline. They tend to be somewhat vague on the reasons for this, and are inclined to attribute it to a number of factors reasonably thought to have some bearing on the matter.

This is not particularly disturbing. The important thing is that the trend of traffic fatalities is indeed down, and that can be celebrated. The reasons for the trend, vital as they may be in determining our future course, can await assessment until there is more evidence to go on.

Meanwhile, it is heartening to find the National Safety Council reporting that auto deaths were down again in June, the fourth straight month in which the 1970 figures are below those for the previous year. The decline was only from 4,800 to 4,700 — two per cent less, representing 100 lives saved — but even that small improvement (especially since the decline has now been sustained over a considerable period) is significant. The same goes for the figures for the first six months: 25,200 traffic deaths in 1970, again a two per cent drop from the total for the corresponding period in 1969.

The president of the National Safety Council, Howard Pyle, does say in a Council news release that certain factors are responsible — “the interstate highway system; more safety designs being incorporated into more cars, especially safety belts; more driver training and retraining, including the Council's Defensive Driver Course; and a crackdown on the drinking driver, both through new legislation and enforcement of existing laws.” Doubtless these things are all involved to some extent. Perhaps, also, all the talks and legislative action on traffic safety has brought rising individual concern which is beginning to show up in the statistics. Whatever it is that's happening, we like the trend.

Will There Be A Stiffening On The Campuses?

THESE DAYS.... By John Chamberlain

A great deal this coming autumn will depend on the campuses: if they “blow,” it should make for a really conservative year at the November polls.

The politicians, however, cannot really count on a “worse-the-better” situation. Maybe we shall have a calm October.

One detects a stiffening at the moment on the part of the authorities. At Stanford University, in California, where student unrest has been rumbling for a long time, there is a summer upsurge of toughness.

Diarmuid R. McGuire, a 28-year-old former Stanford graduate student who returned to his alma mater to take part in anti-ROTC demonstrations in the spring, has been found guilty by a jury on charges of malicious mischief. One of the counts against McGuire, who had been the editor of a radical newspaper, The Plain Rapper, was lamp breaking in front of the building the houses the ROTC.

The issue might seem petty, but the interesting thing is that Stanford students volunteered to act as witnesses for the prosecution. Ray White and Roger Reed, members of the Free Campus Movement, a conservative group, came through with the testimony that caused the jury to crack down on McGuire.

THUS, while an advisory committee headed by Chancellor Alexander Heard of Vanderbilt University has been trying to shift the burden for pacifying the campuses to the White House itself, conservative students at Stanford have been taking matters into their own hands. The Stanford Free Campus Movement agrees with President Nixon that it is up to the local supporters of law and order to stop the vandalism that has become almost a curricular requirement at so many of our schools.

At little Rockford College in Illinois, which is headed by President John A. Howard, an adviser to Nixon on academic finance, vandalism reached an all-time high during the 1969-70 semesters. The honor system, which had hitherto worked with some effectiveness, seemed to be breaking down. President Howard and Rockford trustees have hopes that the honor system can be rescued from its state of “erosion,” but they aren't taking any chances.

For the coming year an Administrative Disciplinary Committee, appointed by the president, will take action on disciplinary problems, and when a violation involves a breach of public law, “probation, suspension or dismissal from the college” will follow.

The Scranton Committee in Washington, investigating the background of the Kent State University rioting and deaths, gave preferred time to leftist characters who did their best to put all the blame for campus unrest on Vice President Agnew's rhetoric.

And when the committee shifted its hearings to Los Angeles, it featured the testimony of Dr. Richard Flacks, a University of California at Santa Barbara professor of sociology who had been a founder of Students for a Democratic Society. In letting the left get its testimonial innings in first, the Scranton Committee tacitly cooperated with the anti-Agnew forces, for it is fully understood by all experts on the subject that it is the early testimony that commands the headlines. (The big thing is to catch the afternoon papers.)

TRUE ENOUGH, the Scranton Committee did listen to the sober statements of Prof. Sidney Hook, president of the University Centers for Rational Alternatives, and Bill Scranton paid Dr. Hook the compliment of saying that he had come up with the first practical proposal for a strategy to limit campus violence. But somehow Dr. Hook's testimony didn't make any headlines. The timing was off.

Dr. Hook bore down on “administrative cowardice” and “administrative connivance” with the student demonstrators.

Guide To Good Health

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

WHAT are some of the best home remedies for food poisoning or ptomaine?

Mr. S. P., Louisiana
Dear Mr. P.: Although ptomaine and food poisoning are often classed as one, there is a difference. Ptomaines are poisons that usually are toxic products of decay from some animal matter. When eaten, they produce the typical symptoms of food poisoning.

Food poisoning can be caused by spoiled shellfish, inedible mushrooms, or food spoiled by inadequate refrigeration. Usually the symptoms occur abruptly. Headache, nausea, diarrhea, and abdominal cramps may occur 10 to 20 hours after contaminated food has been eaten.

Allergies and intestinal virus infections, drug poisonings, and dietary or alcoholic indiscretion can produce the same symptoms.

Since the symptoms are so closely allied, treatment should be suggested by a doctor. The temptation to use cathartics and purges should be avoided because they increase the fluid loss and may complicate simple food poisoning.

Small sips of cold ginger ale or cola drinks are easily tolerated. Eat little or nothing at first and concentrate on replenishing the fluid loss.

When a particular food is suspected, a small sample can be very helpful to the doctor in finding the cause and recommending the proper treatment.

A wise axiom for home remedies of all kinds is to do less more slowly until your doctor makes specific recommendations.

Are the statistics about venereal disease true? I cannot believe that, with modern medical education, the recent reports are accurate. We have discussed this with our children and they, too, question it.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R., New Jersey
Dear Mr. and Mrs. R.: You had better believe it. The statistics are not only true, but I believe the numbers that are reported are far less than actually exist.

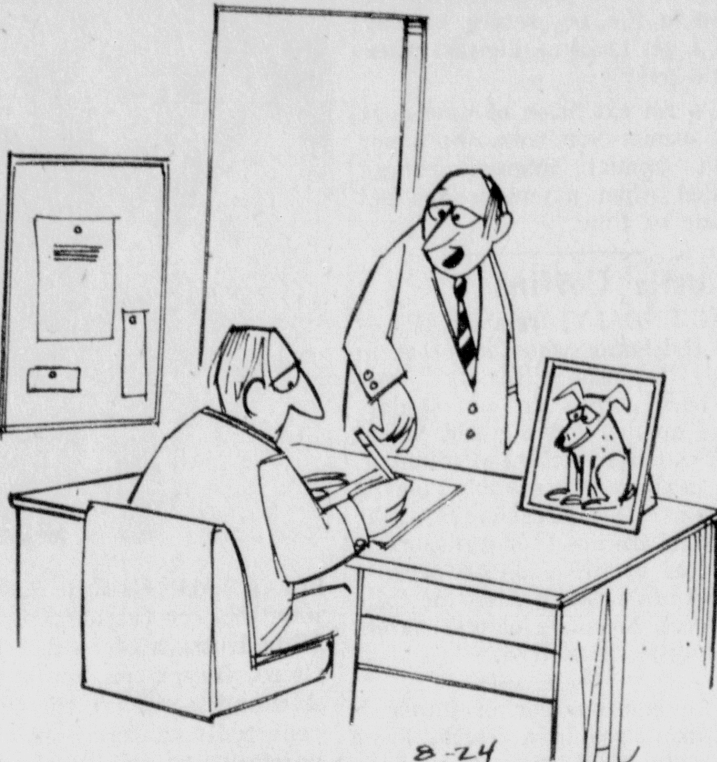

Many thousands of young people acquire active gonorrhea and syphilis and are afraid to bring their symptoms to the attention of a doctor. The major reason is that they do not want their parents to know about it. Consequently, these cases are not included in the statistics.

Let me repeat that you and every other parent must impress your children with the fact that these life-threatening diseases exist in major epidemic proportions.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH: The label “psychosomatic” disease is no substitute for a thorough examination.

LAFF - A - DAY

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren Few Words About 'Clean Living'

DEAR ABBY: I was still boiling over your correspondent who complained about her married daughter's sloppy housekeeping when other mothers rushed to side with her. I have something to say to all of them:

DEAR MOTHERS:

Why don't you compulsive uptight neatness freaks get lost? For one thing, with Vietnam, pollution, Spiro Agnew, George Wallace and youthful neo-Bolsheviks to worry about, how can a little clutter and disorder bother you? Especially when it's not even in your home?

And what makes you crusaders think you've been appointed by God to tell the rest of the world (and that includes your own daughter) how to live? Does it ever occur to you that alternative lifestyles not only exist, but deserve to be tolerated?

You say, “There is a lack of something when a person can learn to live with clutter.” Right! A lack of obsession with trivia. Some call this “mental health.” There are shrinks who specialize in people who wash doorknobs a lot.

SLOPPY BUT HAPPY
DEAR S. BUT H.: Many of my readers share your views. Read on for an eloquent expression from another mother.

DEAR ABBY: You've been getting a lot of static from irate mothers lately over their sloppy married daughters. One mother wrote, “She's usually the type who leaves her own home a mess, and goes out to help others.”

Well, thank God for sloppy girls with big hearts. Of what importance is a well-ordered, scrubbed and polished home in the face of so much loneliness, hunger and despair?

My home is constantly cluttered with school books of other mothers' children, with sleeping bags brought by homeless hippies on their way to some vague dreams, with alcoholics and runaway pregnant girls, and prisoners out on parole and wards of the court.

Let the mother with spare time enough to clean her daughter's house come help me—but not with sweeper, dishwasher and scrub brush, but with an open heart, ready to help ease the pain of others, and with eyes that can see human need.

Whatever is that mother talking about when she belabors her daughter's “blindness”? There is so much more to see

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The time of day affects your height. An adult man is about an inch shorter at nightfall than he was when he woke up, because of gradual compression of his spinal disks during the day. During sleep they relax and he regains his full height.

Sometimes it's better to lose your temper than to keep it. Doctors believe that the major cause of tension headaches is psychological—the result of repressed hostility. So if you vent your wrath, you may avoid a headache. But if you blow up at the boss, you may lose your job—and that could lead to an even bigger headache.

Don't believe anyone who tells you, “Your eyes are bigger than your stomach.” The average human eye is only about an inch in diameter, but the stomach is large enough to hold a pint of food or drink, and can stretch to hold considerably more.

We are still one of the world's more restless peoples. In 1870 the population of the United States was slightly under 40 million. This year, a century later, more than 40 million people will move to a new address.

The largest antlers in the deer family are carried by the Alaskan moose, and can achieve a spread of nearly six feet. Warning: If you wish to check this figure, please do it on a stuffed moose. Few things annoy a live moose more than having a total stranger step up to it in the woods and try to measure its antlers.

Quotable notables: “To the in this world than a few dirty dishes in the sink.”

MRS. P., SAN JOSE, CAL.

DEAR MRS. P.: Thank you for your heartwarming letter. You make clutter sound beautiful.

DEAR ABBY: My husband loves to play golf, and he has been invited to play in a foursome every Sunday with a friend of his. This I don't mind, as I don't play at all. Now, my problem: His friend is a big swinger, and he has two girl friends who make up the other half of the foursome. I have never had to worry about my husband playing around, but now I wonder if maybe this arrangement couldn't lead to trouble.

GOT A PROBLEM.
DEAR GOT: For whom? As I see it, your husband's swinging friend is the one with the problem. Instead of doubling his pleasure and doubling his fun, he is doubling his handicap.

"STRAIGHT FROM WASHINGTON" by U. S. SENATOR STEPHEN M. YOUNG

WASHINGTON — As if American taxpayers are not harassed enough as it is, recent testimony by Sen. J. William Fulbright revealed that the Department of Defense has been less than candid in reporting the extent of its public relations activities in its own behalf.

Sen. Fulbright was testifying for imposition of a $10 million ceiling on Pentagon public relations spending. The last such limit, imposed in 1959, set a limitation of $2,755,000 when the total defense budget was $43 billion.

In 1970, defense spending was $77 billion, but Defense Department public relations spending was up 1500 percent to $40,477,000. Spending this vast amount of money is a Pentagon propaganda apparatus of 4,400 propagandists.

In 1969, Pentagon officials claimed that lobbying and public relations spending was almost $28 million. Now, apparently anticipating the possibility of a new legislative ceiling, they have suddenly decided that the 1969 public relations bill was really $44,062,000.

Judging from their ability to systematically disguise and distort the extent of public relations activity, it would appear that Pentagon officials have learned the lessons of Madison Avenue only too well.

LET THE GENERALS RULE?

Those patriots who drafted the Constitution of the United States provided that in our country civilian authority must always be supreme over the military. Yet there are dim-witted Americans who assert that the generals should run the war.

A short answer to that stupid claim would be to recall that Gen. William Westmoreland, commanding in Vietnam in 1965 said, "I see the light at the end of the tunnel. The Communists are beaten. We are winning the war."

Also, Maj. Gen. Charles J. Timmes, commander of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group in Vietnam (MAAG) in 1963 said, "The Vietnamese armed forces are as professional as you can get. I feel we could wrap this thing up by the end of the next dry season. We will have driven the Viet Cong sufficiently underground by the end of next year that they will no longer be a national threat."

"VIETNAMIZATION"

President Nixon and his Defense Secretary say almost constantly that when Vietnamization is completed our GI's can be brought home and the Saigon regime of Thieu and Ky will be on their own.

Vietnamization commenced more than 12 years ago under President Eisenhower. In January, 1961 when he left the White House we had 685 military advisers in Vietnam — no combat troops. On that sad day in November, 1963 when President Kennedy was assassinated we had 16,200 military advisers in Vietnam — no combat troops.

Under President Johnson we soon had 500,000 military advisers and combat troops in Vietnam.

How absurd and fantastic that with more than 50,000 killed, 300,000 wounded — many maimed for life — and more than $120 billion spent over the years, our losses should be increased in a now expanded South Vietnam should be put in jail.

Thieu's statement, on the same day President Nixon asked Ambassador Bruce, our new Paris negotiator, to seek peace with the Viet Cong and North Vietnam by agreeing to a coalition government in Saigon.

The policies of President Nixon are incompatible with a negotiated settlement. Our involvement has been escalated into Cambodia and Laos.

It is a prescription for endless war. How many more years does President Nixon claim are needed for Vietnamization?

DOES NIXON RISK JAIL?

President Thieu of the Saigon militarist regime, which has been kept in power by the sacrifice of American lives and suffering of 300,000 American wounded plus $110 billion, proclaimed, "Anyone who talks about a coalition government for Today is Monday, Aug. 24th, the 236th day of 1970. There are 129 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 79 A.D., an eruption of Mt. Vesuvius in Italy buried the ancient cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum.

President's hand, but could not speak.

As she was led out and they descended the stairs, she suddenly stopped and exclaimed "I knew it was a copperhead lie!" Congressman Stevens was startled. "What do you mean?" he asked. "They told me he was an ugly man," she said. "Why, he's the handsomest man I've ever seen!"

On this date:

In 1572, 2,000 Protestant Huguenots were killed in Paris in what is known as the massacre of St. Bartholomew's Eve.

In 1777, Gen. George Washington led his army into Philadelphia during the Revolutionary War.

In 1814, British troops captured Washington D. C., and burned the Capitol and White House.

In 1891, Thomas A. Edison applied for a patent for a motion picture camera.

In 1939, Germany and the Soviet Union signed a 10-year non-aggression pact.

In 1954, President Getulio Vargas of Brazil killed himself after the army overthrew his regime.

Ten years ago—The U.S. Senate voted to cut off foreign aid funds to any nation supplying arms or economic assistance to Cuba.

Five years ago—King Faisal of Saudi Arabia and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic signed a pact to restore peace in Yemen.

One year ago—Iraq executed 15 persons accused of spying for Israel and the United States.

State Provides Money

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state administration is providing $500,000 to 30 local school districts whose property tax assessments won't provide enough operating money under the Minimum Foundation program.

Chicago Stockyards Undergo Changes

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Stockyards have closed, but its world-famous market will continue to handle cattle.

Chicago became "hog butcher to the world" when most livestock was produced in small lots and shipped by rail. Chicago was the hub of the nation's rail system, strategically located between the corn-hog country and the Eastern population centers.

At its peak, the Chicago market received more than 100,000 hogs a day.

Closing the hog market, traders say, will have no measurable effect on the average prices received by farmers for hogs. But it probably will speed the collection and distribution of more and better information about prices at other points of sale where transportation is by truck.

Masonic Picnic Held Sunday

Twenty members of the Jeffersonville Masonic Lodge No. 468, and their families gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Morgan at Milledgeville for the annual family potluck picnic.

The youngsters played games while their parents spent the evening visiting.

The 147-member lodge is now preparing to celebrate its 100th anniversary next year. However, little of the planning was done at the picnic. Charles Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan, is the master of the Lodge.

1773 Submarine Wreck Is Sought By Divers

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — Royal navy trainee divers plan a seabed search for the wreck of one of the world's first submarine disasters — in 1773.

The craft was built by a carpenter called J. Day who wagered he could spend 12 hours at a depth of 100 feet in the Plymouth sound.

Neither he nor the vessel, which should have resurfaced when ballast was jettisoned from a special false bottom, were seen again.

The divers, from the school of nautical archeology here, expect to find the submarine under a layer of silt.

There were some 3,000 pedestrians killed and more than 66,000 injured on U. S. streets in 1969 because they crossed between the intersections.

Miss Douds Guest Of Honor

Mrs. Howard Perrill was hostess at an open house Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. in honor of Miss Sandra Douds, bride-elect of Mr. Michael Boylan.

A color scheme of green and white prevailed. Centering the refreshment table was an arrangement of white gladioli, white mums and white carnations. Presiding at the punch bowl were aunts of the bride-elect, Mrs. Harvey Heironimus and Mrs. James Wilson.

Invited guests were members of the Leadership Training Class of First Presbyterian Church and the following past teachers and substitute teachers, Mrs. O. D. Farquhar, Mrs. Clark Pansyl, Mrs. Walter Patton, Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. I. L. Pumphrey, Mrs. Russell Giebelhouse, Mrs. P. M. Cook, Mrs. Alice Decker and Mrs. Perrill.

Other guests were Mrs. Samuel Douds, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Gordon Davis, Mrs. William Boylan, mother of the prospective bridegroom, Miss Lorane Kruse, and out-of-town guests, Miss Elizabeth Thoroman, of Springfield; Mrs. J. W. Hartman, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Robert Burns, of Columbus; and Mrs. Marybelle Cockerill, of Leesburg.

The guest of honor was presented a corsage of shattered carnations.

Assisting Mrs. Perrill in the hospitalities were Mrs. J. Herbert Perrill, Miss Loran Perrill, Miss Charla Butler, Mrs. Don Wood and Mrs. Richard Rankin.

School Integration Awaits Major Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's claim to have virtually wiped out Southern-style school segregation comes to the test this week as the first of nearly 600 holdout districts begin integrating classes.

Between 80 and 90 Southern districts, acting under court orders or voluntary agreements, open their doors today under plans which, for the first time in a century, eliminate dual systems for blacks and whites.

The administration last week said with 566 districts scheduled to desegregate this fall, more than 94 per cent of the school systems in the South would be in compliance with the Supreme Court's 1954 edict that separate schools are contrary to the law of the land.

A handful of districts, about 14, opened without significant incident last week. Most of the South's 2,700 school districts are scheduled to be in operation by Sept. 14.

The big job for the administration will be to determine whether those districts under court order or voluntary agreement will in fact desegregate.

Although maintaining throughout the summer a low-profile approach, the government has pledged to take swift action against districts that discriminate on the basis of race in pupil assignments.

Schools that violate orders or agreements can be taken to court or, less likely, face termination of federal education funds.

More difficult to determine is whether desegregation will end at the school house door, as some civil rights spokesmen have predicted, with classrooms being segregated.

Despite a spring and summer push to bring the remaining segregated districts into line, there are some that still may begin the year on a segregated basis.

TV Show Is Undoing For Wanted Criminal

LONDON (AP) — Glanville Denys Compton, 36, appeared on British television to demonstrate how to make musical sounds from a matchbox.

Police in Ipswich were watching the show and recognized Compton as a man who stayed in a local hotel without paying the bill. He was jailed for a year after pleading guilty to not paying a five pound (12 dollar) hotel bill and dishonestly obtaining a seven pound ten shilling (18 dollar) microphone.

High-Flying Wall Street Talk Being Curbed

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the line between strong opinion and exaggeration often cannot be distinguished by a speaker or writer, the nation's stock markets must constantly try to catch in flight their members' choicest thoughts.

Brokers come on strong, it being their nature to believe intensely and it being their job to convince you to share their thoughts and your money. Often they get carried away.

Like the firm that advertised for registered representatives, including in its advertisement an assurance that it had a "complete research service," when in reality the service consisted of one analyst who also juggled 45 accounts.

Or the firm that tried to publish this promissory statement: "Nevertheless, XYZ is one of the top winners, in my opinion. Performance in the recent dip has been terrific. Earnings are

NOTICE TO PRINTERS FOR BIDS FOR PRINTING BALLOTS
Notice is hereby given that the Board of Elections of Fayette County, Ohio, will receive sealed bids up to 12 o'clock Noon on Tuesday, the 1st day of September, 1970, at its office in Washington C. H., Ohio for the printing and furnishing of Ballots according to the specifications on file in said office.

Bids should be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Printing Ballots," and must be accompanied by a bond of the bidder in a sum double the amount of the bid, with at least two sureties or a surety company, satisfactory to the Board, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract for such printing as may be awarded and for the payment of damages by the bidder to the Board of any excess of cost over the bid or bids which the Board may be obliged to pay for such work by reason of the failure of the bidder to complete the contract.

The contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the County.
The Board, however, reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
By order of the Board.

strongly uptrended and insider buying is apparent. At 13-13 1/2, this $61 stock has little risk."

These are actual examples of fanciful flights caught in the New York Stock Exchange's butterfly net and declared unacceptable. Surveillance of such communications is a never-ending job because The Street always has something to say.

Market letters, research reports, sales literature, advertising and lectures are all monitored by a special staff at the exchange.

To bring more understanding to the situation, exchange officials have just published a booklet called "Guidelines For Member Firm Communications With The Public 'exaggeration is its first subject."

"Exaggerated statements discredit the validity of an advertisement or investment literature and can be misleading," it states. It suggests avoiding phrases such as "fabulous gains," or "explosive growth" and gambling expressions such as "a safe bet," or "a winner."

Because certain terms constantly keep appearing, the authors set up a checklist of subjects and the statement or inference that should be avoided.

Test yourself:

The subject is "advice." What is the inference to be avoided? The answer: "A firm's investment advice is infallible."

The subject is "risk." The inference to be avoided: "There is no risk in an investment." After the recent debacle in stocks, few firms would attempt to carry off such bluffs. In down markets, exaggerations stand out like coal on snow.

Good taste is a different matter, and often the exchange has to disapprove ads, submitted in advance of publication, because they "reflect adversely on the dignity, character, and integrity of the securities business."

An ad was planned, for example, to publicize the opening of a new branch office. It pictured a man with a sorrowful expression resting his head in his hand. The caption read, "This city needs another investment house like a hole in the head!"

Perhaps as a sign of the times, in which some brokers have discouraged small accounts, the exchange draws the line. Don't take advantage of the situation, it cautions.

Jet streams, rivers of air, play an important part in the Earth's air circulation. The high altitude winds help distribute heat more uniformly. Without this distribution, the air at the Equator could become impossibly hot, while some temperate regions might freeze.

TV Viewing

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What happens when a beautiful singing star becomes the nonsinging heroine of a situation comedy series? She changes her nightclub act, for one thing, to include some reference to her television act.

Diahann Carroll, a slender beauty with skin like cafe au lait and a twinkle in her eye, learned this summer during a vacation from television that she has, like it or not, a double identity.

"It was very unexpected," Miss Carroll said in a tone that held just a suggestion of hurt feelings. "I'd been singing almost all my life and I thought a lot of people knew it. And it felt just great to be back doing it again.

"But there was always somebody out in the crowd who'd call out 'Hey Julia, where's Corey?'" Diahann plays a registered nurse named Julia in an NBC series of the same name and is supposed to be the widowed mother of a small son named Corey. In real life she is the divorced mother of a 9-year-old daughter.

"But anyway, now I beat them to it and explain I'm up there because Corey needs a new tricycle," she said with resignation.

Female nightclub performers specialize in elaborate, breath-taking gowns that glitter and cost a small fortune.

"I say that while my gown may not look like Julia's, it is going to be my uniform next season but not to worry because I'll still be wearing a starched cape."

As "Julia" starts its third season next month, she really will be in a new uniform—one of those pants suits with tunic that real-life nurses are beginning to wear.

Hai Kanter, creator and producer of the series, is making more changes than that. Already in the cast is Fred Williamson, a former football star who will be Julia's steady romantic interest. While wedding bells are not expected to ring for this couple, Lurene Tuttle's character, nurse Hannah Yarby, will marry a rich businessman, played by Cesar Romero, and depart to live in Syracuse, N.Y.

This may disappoint viewers who enjoyed the ascerbic lines exchanged between Yarby and Lloyd Nolan's growling Dr. Chegley. Kanter, however, seems determined to make a slight correction in course for the series.

"When Yarby leaves, there will be trouble finding a new assistant and both Dr. Chegley and Julia will be overworked," Kanter reported. "Mary Wickes, who played Dr. Chegley's wife in four episodes last season will come into the office to help out."

New School Program Needed, Gilligan Says

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—"It is time Ohio school districts stepped living a hand-to-mouth existence and were given the kind of support they need to build a quality educational system," John J. Gilligan said here today.

The Democratic gubernatorial candidate told community leaders the state needs "a program of support that gains revenue from those best able to bear the burden."

education from the series, Diahann not only played the big clubs, including Las Vegas, but found time to turn out a television special with Harry Belafonte, Tom Jones and Bill Cosby. It will come along later in the season.

KSU'S Prexy Hopeful Of Campus Peace

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Kent State University President Robert I. White disagrees with those who have forecast serious troubles on the university campus this fall.

"We have developed inner strengths," White told a panel of newsmen on WJW-TV Sunday.

"Now we're committed to orderly participation and orderly change," said White. He added that he thinks Kent students will disassociate themselves from the "burners."

The KSU president said that if he had been on campus during the May 2 and 3 demonstrations he too would have been "tempted to call in the National Guard."

"I might have called the guard late Saturday night because buildings were burning and there was an unruly group," White said.

But he said that if such situations arose in the future he would not call the guard.

White was at a convention in Iowa when Kent Mayor Leroy Satrom called the troops on the afternoon of May 2. Two days later, four students were shot to death during a confrontation between demonstrators and National Guard troops.

White put no blame on the guard but said that in the future troops would not be called because "the coordination of law enforcement agencies has been updated and refined," including special riot training for the State Highway Patrol.

Officer's Bullet Kills Kentuckian

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Gary Prater, 23, of Lewis County, Ky., was shot to death Sunday when he allegedly tried to wrestle a service revolver away from Portsmouth Patrolman Roger Smith.

The incident occurred on the Kentucky side of the U.S. Grant Bridge following a high-speed chase from Portsmouth over a minor traffic violation.

Although the military used to be Hawaii's chief source of income, tourism gradually is moving into first place, followed by sugarcane and pineapple. By the year 1978 the state expects 3,000,000 tourists annually - a number more than four times greater than its current permanent population of 700,000.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow

THIS day's influences should prove highly inspirational to those who are engaged in intellectual, artistic and cultural pursuits. All can have a satisfactory day, however, especially if they make it a point to be tactful. Don't let petty discussions assume major proportions.

For The Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that while, job-wise, you can take some upward strides between Oct. 10 and mid-January (also in late March and early May), these will be but stepping stones. Actually, you may not receive too much recognition for your efforts before early next June, when you will enter an excellent 3-month cycle for advancement. To achieve this, however, you may have to work a little harder than usual and, perhaps, extend your sphere of action.

Where finances are concerned, it would be well to follow the conservative path in general, but especially in December and April, when extravagance and/or speculation could prove hazardous. Most auspicious periods for increasing assets (through sound measures only): November, January, early March, mid-July.

Personal relationships will be governed by generous influences for most of the year ahead, but be careful to avoid friction—especially in domestic circles—during February and July. Most propitious periods for romance: October, December, late March and August; for travel: October, December, January, April and August.

A child born on this day will be extremely versatile along creative lines; could especially succeed as a designer, interior decorator or fashion artist writer.

'Expohio '70' Opening Set For Thursday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Expohio '70"—the 117th Ohio State Fair — opens 12 days, tomorrow — packed program Thursday at 6 a.m. with over two million people expected to attend before it's over.

Once again the fair is being acclaimed a record holder — more people, more livestock, more art exhibits, more horses than ever before and anywhere else.

The free grandstand entertainment program will feature the country's top stars—Johnny Cash, The 5th Dimension, Engelbert Humperdinck, Bob Hope and the High School Marching Band.

Other top names in the entertainment world coming to Columbus for the fair include "Doc" Severinsen, Midwestern Hayride, Charley Pride, The Goldiggers, Paul Dixon and the 50-50 Club, Avco Shower of Stars, Mary Lou Collins and Tim Noble.

In addition, there will be a daily circus and a horse show.

There will be 68,003 exhibits on display by 9,216 exhibitors—an 8 per cent increase over the 1969 record high.

Significant gains were noted by fair officials in dairy cattle entries, beef cattle and in agriculture, horticulture, floriculture and household arts.

Scores of contests, including a spitting match sponsored by a chewing tobacco company, are scheduled.

This year's admission charge is $1.50 for those 12 years old or older and 25 cents for those under 12.

The cost of all amusement rides will be reduced by up to 50 per cent until noon every day except Saturdays and Sunday. All children under 12 are admitted free until noon on the same corresponding days.

The fair opens with the Engelbert Humperdinck Show, which will be presented Thursday and Friday, and closes with the Bob Hope Show Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 5-7. The Johnny Cash Show opens Wednesday, Sept. 2, and continues through Friday, Sept. 4.

Recruiting Of Indian Girls Suspended, Vatican Declares

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican admitted Sunday night that "problems" have resulted from the recruiting of Indian girls to be nuns in European convents and said the practice has been suspended while it is being investigated.

"It is true," the Vatican said in a statement, "that for some years young Indian girls, feeling themselves called to the religious life but without the necessary means, had turned to priests and ecclesiastical agencies to be helped in following that which was or which they felt to be their vocation."

The Vatican said "a certain number" were taken in by "various religious institutes, especially in Europe." The statement said that not all the girls had a true religious calling, so some returned to India, while others remained in Europe.

The statement was issued after the London Sunday Times reported that European convents short of recruits had bought more than 1,200 Indian peasant girls for prices ranging from $600 to $750 each.

The Vatican said many parts of the newspaper story were untrue, or "unduly exaggerated," but it did not specify which parts. It said ecclesiastical authorities took "opportune remedies" as soon as the "problems" came to light and an investigation was begun in July.

Resurfacing Starts On 4 Area Roads

Parts of four roads in Fayette County will be resurfaced during the week.

State crews, directed by Superintendent Gene McLean, will be working with the L. P. Cavett Co., Lackland, on the resurfacing of Ohio 729 from the Clinton County line through Milledgeville, and Ohio 734 from Jeffersonville to the Greene County line.

The crews also will be mowing weeds and patching roads during the week.

County crews will be resurfacing Bloomingburg - New Holland Road between Knight Road and CCC Highway, and Burnet - Perrill Road between Jasper Coil and Miami Trace roads, according to Engineer Charles P. Wagner.

Leveling out a hillock on Rowe - Ging Road in Union Township also will be started this week.

Work on the Post Road bridge, also being done by the county crew, should be completed about Sept. 5, Wagner said. A shortage of concrete is causing the delay.

Crosswalks near schools will be painted on streets by the city crews this week. The crewmen also will be patching and cleaning streets, according to Howard Annon.

Corn Blight Clinic Friday

Alfred J. Baxter, Area Extension Service agronomist, announced today that a meeting to explain the southern corn leaf blight has been arranged for Fayette County farmers. It will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Delbert Fisher farm, West Fork Road, just off the CCC Highway near Sabina.

One of the purposes of the meeting, he said, will be to identify the blight in the field and to discuss harvesting and handling corn affected by the blight.

He said he will be prepared to answer questions and suggested that more might be accomplished if the farmers will have their questions ready in advance if possible.

Mt. Logan Sanatorium Sale Planned

Estimates on the improvement and repair of the Anders Drainage Ditch, Green Township, and final action on the Mt. Logan Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Chillicothe, will be considered by Fayette County commissioners Monday.

Engineer Charles P. Wagner will present an estimate on the cost of improving the ditch, which serves about 10 farms in southwest Green Township.

Final disposition of the Mt. Logan Sanatorium also will be considered by the commissioners.

The joint board of commissioners is to meet in Chillicothe Wednesday to review the decisions of the board of trustees of the now closed sanatorium.

The trustees have set Sept. 14, as the date for a public auction of the materials at the hospital.

They also have authorized three sets of appraisers to determine the cost of the hospital and its grounds.

If an acceptable cost can be determined, the facility will be purchased by Ohio University. A special bill was passed by the Ohio General Assembly last year to permit the university to purchase the land without public bidding.

Parking Ordinance On Council Agenda

An ordinance prohibiting vehicular stopping or standing near intersections with Court Street will be considered by City Council Wednesday night.

The ordinance will be brought to the Council for its second reading, according to City Manager Clarence A. Christman. It is the only ordinance slated for consideration Wednesday.

The ordinance was called for in an effort to help alleviate traffic congestion along Court Street.

Surprise Party Is Really That!

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The guest of honor wore trousers but other guests were left pants-less during a party of more than one surprise Sunday.

Melvin Turner, going next door for the surprise birthday party, saw four men leaving his neighbor's house with guns and a large bundle.

The bundle contained seven pairs of trousers, wallets included, taken by those leaving during an armed robbery.

Name Corrected

Raymond E. Sword, 20, Rt. 3, forfeited $28 bond Friday in Municipal Court, not Raymond Sword, 47, of 706 Campbell St., as was reported in Saturday's Record-Herald. Court officials accidentally attached the wrong arrest card to the affidavit. Sword was charged with speeding.

Grover Back From Oregon

Northwest Farmers Note Corn Blight

Phil Grover, Fayette County Extension Agent, returned Saturday from attending the 55th annual meeting Aug. 16-20 of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents (NACAA) at Oregon State University at Corvallis.

The meeting this year was on the theme "Promote Professional Performance." During the week, he had a chance to compare notes with other county agents from throughout the United States as well as to listen to talks by outstanding speakers.

Among those who addressed the meeting were Dr. Edwin Kirby, administrator, U. S. Department of Agriculture Extension Service; Dr. Robert MacVicar, president of OSU; Gene Fullmer, former world middleweight boxing champion, and two outstanding 4-H club members who are part of the 4-H Report to the Nation team.

Grover and the other agents attending the conference also had a chance to see some of the Oregon country while in Corvallis. Tours through the Willamette Valley highlighted Extension Service programs with Oregon agriculture.

Oregon State's role as a Sea Grant center was spotlighted when the agents visited the Oregon coast 60 miles away to tour the Marine Science Center at Newport and then enjoyed a salmon barbecue on the beach.

The annual meeting was adjourned Thursday evening, with the annual awards banquet.

Grover said that while in Corvallis, there was considerable discussion among the county agents from the southern states concerning the southern corn leaf blight. They said the south has experienced this before it came into Ohio. The census was that very little could be done once the disease hits the cornfields. However, farmers should not panic once they find the presence there, the southerners declared.

Grover said Oregon farmers and the press were interested in knowing the extent of the corn leaf blight damage in the Midwest Corn Belt. Their interest, he said, was due to the huge barley crop in the northwest, which has been selling for about $32 a ton. He explained the barley growers consider this a low price and hope for a better market if the Midwest corn crop is severely affected.

Storage Company Ransacked; Two Guitars Stolen

City police and Fayette County sheriff's deputies investigated six non-traffic complaints over the weekend which ranged in variety from an indecent exposure incident to a burglary at a warehouse.

City police said the Thompson Transfer Co., 153 S. Hinde St., was forcibly entered during the night Sunday by thieves who took two guitars valued at $55.

Entry was gained by the intruders through a south side basement window. The office area was ransacked, but nothing was taken there, officers reported. The two guitars were taken from a storage room.

Officers are searching for a man who accused two teenage girls in an alley near Sunnyside School Saturday.

The girls' parents, who reported the incident to police, said the man had been hiding behind a bush in the alley as the girls were returning home from the Fayette Street Market. He reportedly left in a maroon sedan.

A COUNTERFEIT $20 bill, used to purchase an item at Ross Jewelers, 145 E. Court St., Friday afternoon, launched another investigation by police over the weekend. Officers found the person who issued the bill to the store, but could not determine how it got into circulation.

Sheriff's deputies said an air rifle valued at $10 was taken from a car parked near the bridge at North Fork Paint Creek on U. S. 62 during the afternoon Thursday. Robert Hunter, 333 Florence St., filed the complaint.

City police arrested a 17-year-old Washington C. H. youth for creating a disturbance in the 500 block of Clinton Avenue at 1:08 p.m. Sunday. Officers were called to that address where the youth was using profane language.

Mrs. Delam Gilbert, 50 Wayne St., Bloomingburg, was treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital Sunday for a dog bite suffered while she was helping her son deliver papers in Bloomingburg. The dog's owner was notified to pen the animal for 10 days for observation.

Carryout Clerk Arrested For Sale To Minor

A 22-year-old carryout employe faces hearing in Municipal Court for allegedly selling six per cent beer to a minor, according to the report of an investigation completed by city police over the weekend.

Free over $300 bond pending hearing at 1 p.m. Friday is Jack Iles, 22, of 1134 E. Paint St., who is employed as a clerk at Herbie's Wine Store, 219 W. Court St.

According to Patrolman Dennis Brown, Iles allegedly sold a case of "high powered" beer to Eddie C. Wells, 19, of 108½ W. Paint St., at 8:50 p.m. Friday.

Brown said he observed a car driven by Robert D. Dolphin, 19, of 120 Laurel Rd., enter the carryout's drive-in entrance. He said when he next observed the car, Wells was leaving the carryout with a case of beer in his arms.

Brown said he stopped the car and the two youths produced the case of beer which had been placed in the trunk. Wells reportedly later identified Iles as the person who sold him the beer.

The carryout is operated by Herbert Iles, 922 Lakeview Ave., police reports showed.

Thomas Jefferson invented the swivel chair.

Cincinnati Policeman Shot; Demand Better Protection

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police continue to search for two black youths described in their late teens in connection with the shooting Sunday of patrolman Edmund Schindler in the predominantly black Avondale section of the city.

Schindler, 29, was seriously wounded, police said, when two men walked up to the car in which he was sitting alone, pulled a .38 caliber revolver and shot him.

The bullet went through his arm, into his windpipe, liver, both lungs and intestines. Schindler underwent nearly 10 hours of surgery Sunday at General Hospital. Officials said late Sunday he has an even chance to live.

He had managed to radio for help as the two men fled.

James Frohn, president of the Cincinnati Fraternal Order of Police, asked that citizens "demand the city to double all cars for the safety of our policemen." In asking for two man cars, Frohn said that at the present the police department is "31 below its authorized complement."

He said that instead of increasing the police force city council "would rather spend their money on garbage setup."

Frohn said that the shooting indicates "this is proof enough that we need more policemen, not less as the city manager seems to think." He also asked that citizens demand an increase in the recruit class which is to start in September.

As a result of the shooting, City Manager Richard Krabach Sunday ordered policemen in all the "critical areas" of the city to work in pairs. The "critical areas" cover 44 beats, including Avondale.

The city manager also authorized the hiring of off-duty Cincinnati policemen. The emergency safety measures will be in effect as long as the city administration feels the need, police said.

Meanwhile, wives of District 4 policemen will meet today at the Hotel Alms. They are asking that two policemen ride together in all police cars at all times, Mrs. Jack Collins, wife of a District 4 police officer, said.

She said the women would also ask that pay raises be pushed for their husbands. The women also want a full recruit class. The city is planning to hold a recruit class for 21 cadets instead of the original 31.

Open Air Service In MT Stadium Attended By 414

A congregation of 414 attended the fourth and next to the last of the series of open air services in the Miami Trace High School stadium Sunday evening. This was the largest turnout yet.

The Rev. Charles Richmond, pastor of the South Side Church of Christ, delivered the sermon. His topic was "What Is a Christian?" The Rev. Keith Wooley, pastor of the Hickory Lane Church of Christ, presided.

The Rev. Paul Jones, pastor of the Hillsboro Church of Christ, will speak at the fourth and last of the series Sunday night.

The series of open air services is sponsored for the second consecutive year by four Churches of Christ in the county. In addition to the Hickory Lane and South Side churches, they are the First Christian Church, of Washington C. H., and the Church of Christ in Jeffersonville.

The second and third services were held in the school auditorium because of rain.

More than three million Americans live on wheels.
